BANGOR,

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER, 11, 1837.

THE NORTH EASTERN BOUNDARY

The special message of the President upon the Boundary question is merely a transmission of information upon the subject, to the House, required by their resolution Mr Van Buren gives not one word upon the subject, but simply communicates the correspondence and documents These consist of first a letter from Governor Dunlap to the Secretary of State, accompanied by the Report and Resolutions passed in our Legislature on the thirtieth of March last, then follows a letter from Governor Dunlap under date of April 30th, to Mr Van Buren, calling upon him to cause the North Eastern Boundary, to be explored and surveyed, and monuments erected, in accordance with the request contained in the resolutions

To this succeeds the long and able report of Mr Holmes being the Report of the joint committee of the Senate and House to whom was referred the subject at the last session, with the resolutions appended

Next is a letter from Gov Dunlap, dated June 27th, to the President, conveying information of the imprisonment of Greely, and enclosing Gov Harvey's letter of June 12th, together with the British Warden's letter to Gov Harvey of June 10th from the former we extract the following.—

"In including the territory within the limits of the British claim in the census which Ebenezer Greely appears to have been instructed to take of the population of the co o 'Penobscot,' he has evidently acted in ignorance or under a misconception of the subsisting relations betwixt England and the U States of America, which I cannot allow myself to doubt that your excellency will lose no time in causing to be explained and removed Though necessarily committed to confinement, I have desired that every regard may be shown to Greely's personal convenience, consistent with the position in which he has 'voluntarily' placed himself I use this expression because, as your excellency will observe, Greely was informed by the warden that if he would desist from the act in which he was engaged and the language which he was holding to the people of the Madawaska settlement, (acts constituting not only an interference with the acknowledged rights of jurisdiction of this province, but the positive exercise within its limits of actual jurisdiction however unauthorized on the part of the State of Maine) and would withdraw from this district he should be allowed to do so, otherwise, that in the discharge of the duties imposed upon him by his office, he (the warden) who is in the commission of the peace must be under the necessity of apprehending, in order to make him amenable to the laws of the province This proposal Greely rejected, and was accordingly committed to jail, to be dealt with according to law In the mean time, as an evidence of the desire to cultivate the most friendly understanding with the Government of the State of which Greely is a citizen, I lose no time in saying that upon receiving an assurance from your excellency that your authority shall be exerted in restraining this or any other citizen of the state of Maine from adopting proceedings within the British limits (as claimed) calculated to infringe the authority and jurisdiction of this province and to disturb and unsettle the minds of that portion of its inhabitants residing in the disputed territories, until the question in dispute be brought to a final settlement, Greely shall be immediately enlarged"

Next to this is another letter to the President from Gov Dunlap, urging the adoption of prompt measures on the part of the General Government to effect the early release of Greeley This letter encloses one from Greeley to Gov Dunlap, dated Frederickton, June 12th and is follows

SIR. On the 15th of May last, I was appointed by the county commissioners of Penobscot county to take the census of Madawaska On the 6th of June instant, I was arrested by Mr Maclauchlan, from this place, and committed to jail by him, and there I now remain in the prison at Frederickton I was committed on the 10th inst I addressed a letter to you on the 10th, which has gone by the way of St Andrew's Fearing that letter will not arrive soon I write again to-day by way of Houlton I have described my arrest more particularly in my first letter, which you will undoubtedly receive before long, therefore, I only give the facts in this, having a chance, by the assistance of Mr Lombard, of Hallowell, of forwarding this to Houlton privately I was employed in business of the State, and do expect my Government will intercede and liberate me from prison in a foreign and adjacent province I shall be pleased to receive a line from you expressing your opinion, direction &c

I remain, sir, respectfully,
Your obedient servant
EBENEZER S GREELY

ROBERT P. DUNLAP, Esq Governor of Maine

Next comes the reply of the President through Mr Forsyth, the Secretary of State, to Gov Dunlap the following is the substance

"The circumstances attending this outrage, as given in Mr Greeley's letter, are not sufficient, in view of the President, to warrant the interference of the Government at present For what cause, at what place, and by what authority, the arrest was made, is not stated The necessary explanations may be found, perhaps, in the previous communication which Mr Greeley refers to as having been addressed to you by him on the 16th of June; if not, it is probable that you will easily be able to obtain explicit information from other sources, and communicate it to this Department. It is indispensable that a full knowledge of all the facts illustrative of the case should be in possession of the Government before any formal application for redress can be properly preferred.

In the mean time, I have, in conversation, unofficially, called the attention of Mr. Fox, the British [illegible] at Washington, to this complaint, and he has given me an assurance that he will immediately address a representation on the subject to the Governor of New Brunswick, [illegible] it, that Mr. Greeley [illegible] liberty."

[illegible] of July 24, the Governor [illegible] and regret that the [illegible] should [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] and o [illegible]

sea the law of our Legislature in relation to the distribution of the Surplus, with evidence of Greely's authority to take the census under that law To this Mr Forsyth replies by acknowledging the sufficiency of Gov Dunlap's last letter, and explaining the insufficiency of the former He says

"The information communicated to the Department since the receipt of your letter of the 3d instant is sufficiently explicit, and a note founded upon it has been by direction of the President, addressed to Mr Stevenson instructing him to demand the immediate liberation of Mr Greeley, and indemnity for his imprisonment"

No correspondence has been published, and no communication made in these documents, of or concerning the second arrest of Greeley

The next letters of any consequence are from Gov Dunlap of July 25th and Mr Forsyth's reply thereto Gov Dunlap here again urges upon the President in the strongest terms, the immediate expenditure of the $20,000, appropriated by the last Congress for exploring and surveying the line of the North Eastern Boundary and insists most strenuously upon the rights of Maine and the necessity of the measure proposed

Mr Forsyth, in his reply in behalf of the Executive, says "The clause containing the specific appropriations made by the last Congress for exploring, surveying and marking certain portions of the North Eastern Boundary of the United States, to which your Excellency alludes, is by no means imperative in its character The simple legislative act of placing a sum under the control of the Executive for a designated object is not understood to be a direction that it must in any event be immediately applied to the prosecution of that object. On the contrary, so far from implying that the end in view is to be attained at all hazards it is believed that it merely vests a discretionary power in the President to carry out the views of Congress on his own responsibility, should contingencies arise to render expedient the proposed expenditure

"Under existing circumstances, the President deems it proper to wait for the definitive answer of the British Government to the last proposition offered by the United States When received, a further communication to your Excellency may be found proper and, if so, will be made without any unnecessary delay"

Next is added a letter of Mr Forsyth's to Mr Fox, under date of March 23, 1837, calling the attention of the British Minister to the subject of the St Andrews and Quebec Railroad, remonstrating against the prosecution of that undertaking, and adding, that if carried into effect it will be regarded by our government as a deliberate infringement of the rights of the United States to the territory in question, and an unwarrantable assumption of jurisdiction on the part of the British Government He then urges upon great Britain through their Minister the increasing necessity, arising from the recent accumulation of difficulties, of bringing the controversy to a final close

Mr Fox's letter of August 24th, is the next of importance succeeding this, and is as follows

SIR With reference to the official note which by direction of the President, you addressed to me on the 22d of March last, respecting a projected railroad between the cities of Quebec and St Andrew's, which it was apprehended, would, if carried into effect traverse a part of the territory at present in dispute between Great Britain and the United States, I am now enabled to inform you that, in consideration of the arguments and observations contained in your note, her Majesty's Government has been pleased to direct the colonial authorities of Lower Canada and New Brunswick, respectively, to cause all operations connected with the above mentioned project, within the limits of the disputed territory, to be immediately discontinued

The next and last document in the Message is the following from Mr Stevenson, our Minister in London to Lord Palmerston, the British Minister for Foreign Affairs

The undersigned will avail himself of the occasion to remind Lord Palmerston of the urgency which exists for the immediate and final adjustment of this long pending controversy, [respecting the Northeastern boundary] and the increased obstacles which will be thrown in the way of its harmonious settlement by these repeated collisions of authority, and the exercise of exclusive jurisdiction by either party within the disputed territory

He begs leave, also, to repeat to his lordship assurances of the earnest and unabated desire which the President feels, that the controversy should be speedily and amicably settled and to express the anxiety with which the Government of the United States is waiting the promised decision of her Majesty's Government upon the proposition submitted to it as far back as July, 1836, and which the undersigned had been led to believe would long since have been given, and he has been further directed to say, that should this proposition be disapproved, the President entertains the hope that some new one, on the part of her Majesty's Government, will immediately be made, for the final and favorable termination of this protracted and deeply exciting controversy

The undersigned begs Lord Palmerston to receive renewed assurances of his distinguished consideration A STEVENSON

CONNECTICUT ELECTION

The late town elections in Connecticut exhibit great changes in public sentiment, without a doubt The Hartford Courant says, "We have received information of the result in 36 towns, all but six of which have gone for the Whigs These same towns last Spring stood Whig 12, 24 Van Buren. The long legged monster, with his pockets stuffed with gold and a bag of Benton Mint Drops,' was seen striding over Maine a few days before the election in that State. [illegible] have p[illegible]d through Ct. on his way to [illegible] quarters."

MARYLAND. The Whigs have a majority of [illegible] in the House of Delegates, and a majority of [illegible] upon joint ballot, by which the Governor and Council are elected. Although [illegible] have performed [illegible] duty, yet enough has been done [illegible] a substantial Whig majority in the Legislature.

CONGRESS. The last mails bring us nothing of importance from Washington The Currency and the Bills and Resolutions connected with it, are still under discussion

The resolution that "It is inexpedient to establish a National Bank" finally passed in the House by a vote of 122 to 91 28 members were absent—the most of them Whigs Some of the Whig members voted in the affirmative The vote is by no means a test of the character of the House upon that subject The Resolution was understood to have an application to the present time only and was voted for by many on the ground of the inexpediency of attempting that which is impossible And knowing that such is the present character of the Executive and the Senate, that it is impossible now to have a National Bank, they have declared by the above vote, that that which is impossible, is inexpedient

TENNESSEE Mr Stone (Whig) is elected to Congress from the 4th District in this State in the place of the late Col Standefer The vote stood thus

For the Whigs,	4337
" Tories,	1452

"Currency reforms have been pushed so far and so fast that there is but little left of any description to reform In consequence, the business and industry of the country are in a suffering condition, and the people are complaining—Unless extreme measures and new experiments are abandoned, and the State Banks sustained so true as there is a sun in heaven the opponents [illegible] the democratic party and saddle on the country another Biddle Bank The signs of the times cannot be mistaken Let us be wise in season [Eastern Republican

True. Mr. Republican! Try new experiments, or continue old ones, "to this complexion must we come at last" There is no escape Every new movement of the "Party" adds to the proof of the correctness of Whig doctrines, and the truth of Whig predictions

BACKING OUT A writer in the Eastern Republican of yesterday advocates the repeal of the "Small Bill Law

We ask the attention of our readers to the following extract from a report on the state of the Treasury, made by Mr Cambreleng to the House of Representatives, from statements prepared by himself and taken from the books of the Department

"Of the five millions due from banks, only $750,000 are due from banks east and north of Virginia, and but $250,000 from other banks which can be considered available leaving wholly unavailable in other bank, four millions"

What a commentary upon the wisdom of one of the measures of Gen Jackson the removal of the deposites for which he has been lauded to the skies by his servile adulators as to be found in the above statement Until the ruthless hand of power had wrested the public treasure from the custody of the institution in which it had been placed by the laws of the country, every dollar of it was safe and available But this institution had strenuously resisted all attempts of the government to pollute its chastity, had indignantly repelled every advance made every seductive art used to induce it to become a vile political tool in the hands of the party in power—and Andrew Jackson willed its destruction As a national institution, and as a keeper of the nation's wealth it was destroyed and mark the result Of the five millions of public money due from the pet banks banks selected with an eye to the devotion of the officers and directors to the measures and doctrines of the 'revered chief,' rather than the credit and solvency of the institution Four millions are wholly unavailable!!! Freemen, can you calmly look upon this picture? Can you see corruption stalking through the land, and with an iron hand destroying our best institutions, leaving us of liberty nothing but the name? Can you see the trade and commerce destroyed our manufactories closed thousands of human beings out of employment, females as well as males, turned loose upon the cold world to starve, or even worse than starvation? Can you see all this, and yet with folded arms look and cry "all's well"? Forbid it Heaven Forbid it ye spirits of the departed sages and heroes of the Revolution [Philadel Herald

PUT ON RECORD The N Y Eve Post says of the coming Pennsylvania election, "Next week the entire Whig party will meet with a rout that will astonish every body.' We put on record from the Albany Argus, such a prediction about Maine

New Printing Press The Baltimore Patriot announces a printing press on a new principle, as in exhibition in that city It is said to be entirely different from those now in operation and to be remarkable for simplicity and convenience of mechanical arrangement. It was invented by Messrs. Wm and Thos. Schnebly, of Hagerston.

The quantity of flour brought to the Hudson river in the fourth week in September, was 51,495 barrels, and of wheat 45,310 bushels, being an excess of 13,352 barrels of flour, and 11,208 bushels of wheat, over the receipts of the corresponding week of last year.

The Richmond Enquirer states that the vine yards in the vicinity of that city have yielded large crops of grapes this year One gentleman will make a thousand and another upwards of 600 gallons of wine

The Wheeling Gazette states that the product of the crop of wheat realized this yr from the farm of Mr Danl Steenrod near that city, averaged $66 00 per acre when manufactured into Flour.

AMOS KENDALL RIGHT FOR ONCE. When Amos returned to N Y from his political visit to R I his loco foco friends expressed fears that the Whig members of Congress would be elected Amos, in reply said "All is right; we are just as sure of Rhode Island as we are of Maine. And so it turned out for they lost both [Albany Journal.

"Pray, sir," said a gentleman to a [illegible] ag, upon one of our [illegible] wharves, the other day, "Pray sir, what is good now?" "[illegible]" replied the [illegible] paper.

EMIGRANT'S ADIEU TO SCOTLAND.

Our native land, our native vale,
A long and last adieu!
Farewell to bonny Teviotdale,
And Cheviot mountains blue!

Farewell, the hills of glorious deeds,
And streams renowned in song!
Farewell ye blithesome braes and meads,
Our hearts have loved so long!

Farewell ye broomy elfin knowes,
Where thyme and harebells grow!
Farewell ye hoary haunted howes,
O'er hung with birk and sloe!

The battle mound, the Border tower,
That Scotia's annals tell
The martyr's grave, the lover's bower,
To each, to all, farewell!

Home of our hearts! our father's home!
Land of the brave and free!
The sail is flapping on the foam
That bears us far from thee

We seek the wild and distant shore
Beyond the Atlantic main,
We leave thee to return no more,
Nor view thy cliffs again!

But may dishonor blight our fame,
And quench our household fires,
When we, or ours, forget thy name,
Great island of our sires!

Our native land, our native vale,
A long, a last adieu!
Farewell to bonny Teviotdale,
And Scotland's mountains blue!

MATRIMONY Matrimony is like Masonry no one knows the secret until initiated It is like an eel-trap very easy to get in, but plaguy hard to get out It is in the first stage, like a wind that fans the flame of love, but unfortunately too much fanning blows it all out It is every thing that is contradictory sweet or bitter, just as it was taken In short, it is

Like a glaring light
Placed in a window on a summer's night
Alluring all the insects of the air
To come and singe their pretty winglets there,
Those who are out butt heads against the pane,
Those who are in butt to get out again

THE VERY BIGGEST An Ox, called the Olympus, has been raised in Claremont, N H by Isaac Hubbard, which is now only 5 years old and weighs three thousand five hundred pounds The Claremont Eagle a bold bird to pounce on such an ox says, "He is well proportioned, and weighs eight hundred more than the great ox Columbus though nearly three years younger than the latter, when last weighed and exhibited in Boston He is, in fact, a mountain of beef, as his name would seem to indicate, and is well described by the poet

'He stood
Firm in his limbs, and like Olympus huge
And vast, from side to side

He will be shipped down the river next week, give the Hartford people a call between the 15th and 20th and take the safest conveyance to New York, the city of epicures'

He may go to New-York and be hanged & quartered, for aught we care We don't like such fat beef in Boston [Transcript

CITY POLICE A man claiming the modest appellatives of "General Andrew Jackson" was found by Constable Tallant "alone in his glory, that is, in the gutter He said he was from Framingham, but pertinaciously insisted that he was "the second Washington" and 'took the responsibility" of doing as he pleased He had destroyed the "Monster Bank," and it was a pity if he might not make a monstrous drunkard of himself This reasoning might do for an L L D, but it did not satisfy the guardians of the night, or the gentlemen of the bench [Bost Times

THE LITTLE FOX The Indians are very happy in their choice of soubriquets for distinguished men, their selections are almost always particularly appropriate. The Richmond Whig mentions that the Fox Indians now in Washington, on being presented to Mr Van Buren as their Great Father, said it was necessary he should, in this capacity, have a suitable title and after examining his physiognomy and person with some care, they unanimously agreed that he must be styled the 'little fox, pronouncing, with their usual emphasis the Indian term synonimous therewith It is needless to remark upon the aptness of this cognomen Never was aboriginal sagacity more signally displayed

TEMPERANCE At a temperance meeting in St Louis, nine men, among them Gen Gaines, pledged themselves to raise $1000 to procure a public lecturer on Temperance A committee was appointed to wait on the capts. of steamers, and request them to discontinue the Bars in their boats Should this application prove successful, fewer accidents would happen on the Mississippi

Matrimony A gentleman on a rainy day, met a farmer, who said "Fine weather, this, sir it will make everything spring out of the earth" "God, I hope not," said the gentleman "for I buried my wife yesterday"

MORISON'S PILLS!!!

F. & I. S. WHITMAN, Agents, Bangor

THE friends of Hygeianism and the public generally are again cautioned against the unprincipled attempts of apothecaries and quack doctors to destroy all confidence in these highly valuable and almost indispensable family medicines by the cry of imposition exorbitant prices! falsehood! and more than all, by the astonishing benevolence of the craft in imparting to the world their wonderful discovery of the composition of them that a three dollar packet costs but one shilling that any person can make them, etc Counterfeiters also, beware of the law The British College of Health have recently recovered damages of the makers and venders of a spurious dangerous article, in the courts of Massachusetts and New York; and their exclusive right and property in the sale, is firmly established and confirmed in this country

Two hundred thousand dollars worth of these simple and effective medicines are sold annually in the United States, and injury from them is unheard of One cause of the high price they bear, is a heavy export duty paid in England; yet they are incomparably cheaper than any patent medicines ever offered saving, as they do, expensive and protracted fits of sickness

The genuine article cannot be bought of apothecaries, travellers or pedlars, they being denied the sale throughout the world The only place in this section where they can be had, is at the store of F & I S WHITMAN, Bangor, (whose signature is labelled on every packet they sell) where may be seen printed reports of recent trials, certificates of cures etc Subscriptions received to the Family Adviser and Hygeian Record, a paper published at New York at $1 per annum nov 19
